Coding Projects

- Unless otherwise specified, each day, or part thereof, an assessment task is overdue, a late penalty of 5% of the available total marks applies up to a maximum of seven days. Assessment tasks submitted more than seven days after the due date will receive a mark of zero for that task and may not receive feedback.
- Unless otherwise specified, all in-semester assessment tasks will be submitted to a similarity detection system.
- All Coding Projects are due at 11:55PM in your own time zone.

Theory Tests

- The theory tests are competency hurdles only. That means, you need to complete them to a satisfactory level but they do not contribute to your final marks.
- If you fail a test on its first taking (Week 6 for Test 1 and Week 10 for Test 2), you can attempt it again in the following weeks. If you fail the test on its second taking, you can attempt it again in Week 14. After which point, there will not be any more opportunities for taking them.
- All Theory Tests will take place during an invigilated session on campus. Since there are multiple times/locations for each taking of the test, you'll need to allocate yourself to a group on Moodle. An announcement will be sent about this.
- You are required to bring a valid government or Monash photo ID in order to take these assessments.
- No notes are permitted for this test. However, you will be provided with blank paper if you need any. You will not be able to use your own books as scrap / working out pages.

Workshop Quizzes

- The scores of weekly quizzes from Weeks 2 to 12 will add up to 30% of your total grade. The quiz of the first week is a practice, and its score will not contribute to your total grade.
- You will be given time to attempt the quizzes during the workshop, and you can discuss the questions with other students and/or staffs in the room.
